For the Love of Books

Books - so many ways to read. You can read on a Nook, on your iPad, your phone and then there is the real thing--a bound and printed book. At Currey & Company, we are partial to an old-fashioned hardcover book. We appreciate the craft of book making, the design, the font and the paper. Books say so much about us! A book collection can give you incredible insight into a person, represent a person's life journey and dare I say it - intellect. Along with the obvious value of books, they add a lot to a room's decor. Old books add the same patina to a room as do good antiques. Books used as decor add texture and warmth to a room and help to make a house feel like a home. Bookcases are a must if you love and collect books, but having a table to display books or pile up the ones you have yet to read is equally a must!

Glencoe Table

With a rich mahogany finish and silver detailing, the Glencoe Table would be the perfect stage for your favorite books. The turned wood base is hand carved with claw feet inspired by a panther's paw. The solid mahogany top features a traditional starburst pattern.

Currey & Company is pleased to be hosting two book-signing parties in our High Point showroom. Please join us on Sunday, April 21st from 3 to 5 PM for Interior Design magazine's new book: Best of Residential Architecture and Design by Cindy Allen and featuring noted interior designer, Eileen Dycus. We follow with a new Rizzoli book on Monday, April 22nd from 3 to 5 PM for: Designers at Home: Personal Reflections on Stylish Living by Ronda Rice Carman with a forward by Martha Stewart.
